

Title: Senior Consultant
Position: Full-Time Regular
Location: Atlanta, GA or Bentonville, AR

About TrueDemand Software:

TrueDemand Software creates sustainable value for our customers by revolutionizing the Shelf Back Supply Chain™, bringing both retailers and consumer goods customers closer to consumer demand and creating actionable store level plans to ensure optimal service levels and maximum revenue and profit. TrueDemand Software has received numerous awards, including Consumer Goods Technology Readers' Choice Award, One of 15 start-ups to watch by Infoworld Magazine, and most recently being cited by Gartner Group in their publication "Cool Vendors in Supply Chain and Procurement".

TrueDemand Software provides a entrepreneurial environment, where you can apply yourself to helping the leading companies in the world solve complex business issues utilizing TrueDemand Software's industry leading applications. Our professional services teams work closely with our customers during all phases of the project, from the initial scope determination through the final delivery. The Senior Consultant performs an integral role in the implementation of TrueDemand application software. Responsibilities vary across throughout the project but enthusiasm for providing real value for the client remains constant. The Senior Consultant makes a significant contribution to the project by providing business process consulting, application configuration, testing, training, and issue resolution.

TrueDemand Senior Consultant:

- A proven functional professional, experienced with full lifecycle implementations. Strongly prefer prior consulting experience but will consider corporate implementation experience with team lead or project management responsibilities.
- Capable of working with client teams to develop and define business process documentation in the context of application flows and translating these discussions into designs for technical team use during development.
- Able to communication effectively with both business focused end users, as well as technical staff.
- Able to manage budget, scope, resource allocation and client expectations in a professional manner, reporting status and issues to both client and TrueDemand project and senior management.
- Will actively seek opportunities to teach others and coach team members to achieve their highest potential
- Possesses excellent communications and presentation skills;
- Bachelors degree in a supply chain or inventory management related field required, MBA a plus.
- Minimum of 2 years experience implementing packaged software required; demand planning and replenishment planning applications a plus.
- Experience with consumer goods replenishment policies and/or with retail planning or supply chain planning systems
- Experience with Microsoft Office Tools
- Average travel 50 - 75%

Position based out of Atlanta, GA